The C.F.R.

Conspiracy To Rule The World

By GARY ALLEN in American Opinion, April, 1969.

House's outline for conspiracy is given excellent analysis by his fawning biographer, Professor Charles Seymour (C.F.R.). Professor Seymour states in The Intimate Papers Of Colonel House:

The extent of Colonel House's influence upon the legislative plans of the (Wilson) Administration may be gathered from a remarkable document which deserves some attention. In the autumn of 1912, immediately after the presidential election, there was published a novel, or political romance, entitled "Philip Dru: Administrator." It was the story of a young West Point graduate . . . who was caught by the spirit of revolt against the tyranny of privileged interests.

A stupid and reactionary Government at Washington provokes armed rebellion, in which Dru joins whole-heartedly and which he ultimately leads to complete success. He himself becomes dictator and proceeds by ordinance to remake the mechanism of government, to reform the basic laws that determine the relation of the classes . . . and to bring about an international grouping or league of powers founded upon Anglo-Saxon solidarity. His reforms accomplished, he gives effect once more to representative institutions as formulated in a new American Constitution, better fitted than the old for the spirit and conditions of the twentieth century. (Emphasis added.)

Much that House outlined in Philip Dru became reality during the Wilson Administration. "All that book has said should be, comes about," wrote Wilson's Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane. "The President comes to Philip Dru (House) in the end."

In Philip Dru, Edward House wrote of establishing "Socialism as dreamed by Karl Marx." A major step towards achieving this was taken with the passage of the graduated income tax, a plank in the Communist Manifesto the realization of which House called for in Philip Dru. Of course, House's patrons, who helped push the graduated income tax, deftly side-stepped its effects by placing major portions of their own fortunes under the umbrella of tax-free foundations. (The idea, remember, is to destroy the middle class, not the wealthy.)

House also served the Insiders by acting as what Professor Seymour calls the "unseen guardian angel" of the Federal Reserve Act. In his book, "Colonel" House had Dru decree just such a new banking law providing "a flexible (paper) currency." Again, placing the control of money and all credit in the hand of the State was another plank from the Communist Manifesto. The Intimate Papers Of Colonel House reveals that the "Colonel" was working hand in glove with certain Wall Street Insiders to promote the Federal Reserve Act under the guise of its being a move towards "democracy." Biographer George Viereck assures us that "The Schiffs (C.F.R.), the Warburgs (C.F.R.), the Kahns (C.F.R.), the Rockefellers (C.F.R.), and the Morgans (C.F.R.) put their faith in House . . ."

Many patriotic bankers, of course, opposed the Federal Reserve and other socialist legislation imposed on America by the Wilson-House regime, but conspirators are interested in control and, in the end, control resides in the power to expand government. He who controls the reins of government controls the people. Control the government of the world, and you control the people of the world. Much of the control over the people of America was originally engineered by Colonel House—who, by the time he acted as mid-wife at the birth of the C.F.R. in Paris, was an experienced and successful front man for the Insiders.

The C.F.R., as we have seen, was the brain-child of the Round Table conspiracy, acting with and through Colonel House. Its purpose was to promote the concepts of internationalism and World Government. This was to be accomplished largely by infiltration of the government and both political Parties à la Philip Dru. You will recall it was House's plan to manipulate this "conspiracy" in such a way that opposing candidates would only seem to have differences; and, you may have noticed, today national candidates argue only over providing "new leadership"—not new policies. The move toward World Government has thus never so much as slowed. Key to this conspiracy in America has been the Round Table's Council on Foreign Relations.

V

The C.F.R.'s Twenty-Fifth Annual Report tells us this of the C.F.R.'s founding at Paris:

. . . The Institute of International Affairs founded at Paris in 1919 was comprised at the outset of two branches, one in the United Kingdom and one in the U.S. . . .

Later the plan was changed to create an ostensible autonomy because, ". . . it seemed unwise to set up a single institute with branches." It had to be made to appear that the C.F.R. in America, and the R.I.A. in Britain, were really independent bodies, lest the American public become aware that the C.F.R. was in fact a subsidiary of the Round Table Group and react in patriotic fury.

FROM WEEK TO WEEK

In Left Wings Over Europe (London, 1936), Wyndham Lewis quotes Douglas Jerrold in his book England: "Our imperial responsibilities alone involve the destinies of over 400,000,000 people in Asia, Africa, and the West Indies, surely a sufficient field for the energies of at least this generation, especially as we may expect grave and forcible threats from other powers to our rule, not only in India, but throughout Asia and, perhaps, in Northern and Equatorial Africa. One clear prophecy can be made. If we ever yielded to such threats the collapse of western civilisation in the resulting scramble for power would be inevitable and final. The structure could no more be rebuilt than that of the Roman Empire of the west when the capital was removed to Constantinople, and Europe, for a second time, would have to face centuries of chaos."

The fact that we have lost the Empire, after twice defeating Germany, the ostensible threat to our position, points ineluctably to an enemy other than Germany which is responsible for our defeat. The enemy is international Socialism, backed by the Money Power now openly dictating the conditions of Britain's very existence.

Despite the present convenience of the expression "International Marxist Conspiracy", Marx is anything but convincing as the author of the present situation. Das Kapital, taken so seriously by liberal Intellectuals, is a mere compilation, and a recruiting device for the scum of the underworld—recruited to first undermine, then destroy the culture and order of Western Civilisation. As an economic system, Marxian Communism would never have got anywhere. That the (according to Marx) increasingly impoverished and downtrodden proletariat could have subscribed the billions of money which has organised Communism as a destructive force throughout the world does not stand a moment's examination. The Big Money has come from the Big Bankers, sometimes privately and directly, but more importantly through the tax-exempt Foundations—whose main contribution, however, has been to financing subversion on the highest Intellectual planes, where the strategy of establishing World Government by bringing "an end to nationhood" has been directed through the Royal Institute of International Affairs and the Council on Foreign Relations (U.S.A.).

All this is the background of the race troubles particularly in Britain, since Britain did not have race problems until a subversively directed immigration policy imported foreign races. In a letter signed by Lord Walston and others, published in The Times of June 10, 1969, the following appears: "The Institute of Race Relations came into existence some 11 years ago, having previously been part of the Royal Institute of International Affairs . . . It was helped in its early days by generous gifts from industry, private individuals, the Ford Foundation and the Nuffield Trust . . . The Ford Foundation has once more generously given us $350,000 . . ." (Emphasis added). Clearly the work of the Institute began before it became independent, in the days when the Royal Institute and its activities, like those of the C.F.R., were somewhat clandestine and esoteric.

Britain's downfall and the destruction of the British Empire, with the consequent slaughter in India and Africa, are above all due to the internal collaboration of traitors, many of them foreigners with white skins, with external financial pressures. It is very doubtful that a homogeneous Great Britain pursuing sound and sane economic policies backed by adequate naval and military forces would have succumbed to the blandishments of intellectual traitors advocating a New Order. But as Marx so delicately put it, "the British are too stupid to make their own revolution, therefore foreigners must make it for them".

Well, Mr. Enoch Powell has made it plain that the racial issue is increasingly explosive; and the sort of opposition he is meeting, and the quarters from which it comes, indicate that he has touched a nerve-centre of the Conspiracy. No British Government has had a mandate for virtually unrestricted immigration. But the troubles arising therefrom form a pretext for the Gestapo-like Race Relations Board; and that is the way it was planned. Not much longer and advocates of Britain for the British may become victims of the 'peace'-time equivalent of war-time Regulation 18B.

Before accepting too readily the universal Press interpretation of Mr. Wilson's 'defeat' by the Trades Unions, it may be as well to recall the Mond-Turner Conference*. Britain is now being organised as a domain of International Big Business, and in the final design the subjugation of workers by Organised Labour, as represented at present by the T.U.C. is an essential component—as in Soviet Russia. Mr. Wilson's Administration is only a transitional stage, not the sort of thing to be responsible for the permanent direction of labour or the suppression of counter-revolution. It is a suitable enough instrument for the elimination of the middle class. Elected governments come and go, but Big Bosses—Kommissars—last as long as they are tough enough. And it does not appear that Mr. Wilson has the necessary infrastructure to sustain the sort of toughness that is going to be required.

It is now abundantly clear that President Johnson abdicated to clear the way for the abandonment of Vietnam, and thus probably of South East Asia. There is now a gruesome momentum about the whole business—the withdrawal once under way can hardly be reversed, and once it has gone a certain distance, will almost certainly become a rout, with further massacres—perhaps of Americans. The stakes—World Government after patient years of conspiracy—are too great to imagine that a few million more deaths are any sort of obstacle to a final consummation.

Unlawful Purposes

“A conspiracy, we read, is ‘a planning and acting together secretly, especially for an unlawful or harmful purpose, such as murder or treason.’”

The United States of America is, by law, a Constitutional Republic. The President, when he takes office, swears to uphold the Constitution; any attempt by him or persons appointed by him, to alter or evade the Constitution, would constitute treason. Britain, on the other hand, is a Constitutional Monarchy, and Ministers of the Crown swear allegiance to the Crown. In the U.S.A. the Constitution, in Britain the Crown, embody the rights of the citizens of the respective nations; and any attempt to abridge those rights is, by definition, treason.

The progress in treason and conspiracy in both countries is appalling—but now, fully documented—or, should we say, sufficiently documented by what is known of the past; for the ultimate betrayal though close at hand, is not yet consummated.

Alan Stang's recent contribution* to our knowledge of the true history of the years since the end of the 'Great' War of 1914-1918, lavishly documented as it is, will still contain surprises even for those who already feel themselves to be adequately informed. It is “the true story of John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State 1953 to 1959”—a crucial period. By the end of Truman's term as President, American public opinion was becoming disenchanted with the policies, both domestic and foreign, of the Democratic Administration, and investigating Committees of Congress had already exposed the penetration—easily accomplished in the war period of collaboration with Soviet Russia—of Communists into the Administration. But the grip of Communists, both known and secret over the government, was by no means fully comprehended; yet further exposure, such as was all too likely under a genuinely Conservative Republican Administration, was likely to prove fatal to the far advanced accomplishments of conspiracy. This danger was met by converting General Eisenhower (a pliable tool of the Conspiracy: see The Politician, by Robert Welch) into a 'Republican'; and he saved the day by winning election as President. Under Eisenhower, further exposure was greatly impeded by Executive Orders; and in any case public opinion was allayed by the 'Republican' victory.

John Foster Dulles had been for years a highly influential and active member of the Council on Foreign Relations—the skin of the core which constitutes the effective Government of the U.S.A.—and potentially of the world. Stang, therefore, has much to say of the C.F.R. But of perhaps even greater interest, and possibly importance, is what he reveals of the formation of the Federal (later National) Council of Churches, the germinal organ of the World Council of Churches. The spectacle of 'clergy' participating in demonstrations and riots has become commonplace; but the mechanism by which this has come about is barely suspected.

The formation of the Council of Churches was a Communist operation with which Dulles was closely associated. Genuine Ministers of God do not often become Communists, although they are often susceptible to Communist implanted doctrines, especially 'social' doctrines. On the other hand, Communists do acquire theological degrees, and by capturing executive positions in Church organisations, control them. All of this Stang explains in great detail, derived from an obviously painstaking study of documents derived from the bodies concerned. How many people know that the prominent 'cleric' Reinhold Niebuhr by 1944 was actively associated with fourteen Communist Fronts staffed by such well-known Communists as Earl Browder and Elizabeth Gurly Flynn?

This is the darkened background against which Dulles posed as an “anti-Communist Conservative Republican”. Within his term as Secretary of State we have the engineered Korean War, Operation Suez Canal, delivery of Cuba to Communism, betrayal in Lebanon—and much more besides.

The Actor is strong medicine which makes one feel sick. But we need to feel sick, in order to break out of the euphoric feeling of ultimate well-being induced by the phoney presentations of the mass media. Forecasts for the 1980's are “pie in the sky when you die”. If things go according to Plan, in the 1980's, perhaps earlier, the slaves of the World State will be undertaking the socialist reconstruction of the globe, under the supervision of the United Nations Peace and Law Keeping Forces. The objective of the reconstruction is to make the world safe for its Governors.

Professor Quigley provides a run-down on who was who in the C.F.R. when it was finally incorporated in 1921:

The New York branch (of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, i.e. the Council on Foreign Relations) was dominated by the associates of the Morgan Bank. For example, in 1928 the Council on Foreign Relations had John W. Davis as president, Paul Cravath as vice-president, and a council of thirteen others, which included Owen D. Young, Russell C. Leffingwell, Norman Davis, Allen Dulles, George W. Wickersham, Frank P. Polk, Whitney Shepardson, Isaiah Bowman, Stephen Duggan, and Otto Kahn (all of whom were partners, associates, or employees of Morgan interests) . . .

The academic figures have been those linked to Morgan, such as James T. Shotwell, Charles Seymour (House's biographer), Joseph Chamberlain, Philip Jessup and, more recently, Philip Moseley, Grayson Kirk and Henry M. Wriston . . .

Closely allied with this Morgan influence were a small group of Wall Street law firms, whose chief figures were Elihu Root, John W. Davis, Paul D. Cravath, Russell Leffingwell, the Dulles brothers and, more recently, Arthur H. Dean, Philip D. Reed, and John J. McCloy.

According to Quigley, the most important financial dynasties in America during the Twenties were (in addition to Morgan) the Rockefeller family; Kuhn, Loeb and Company; Dillon Read and Company; and Brown Bros. Harriman. All were well represented in the C.F.R., and by such luminaries as Otto Kahn, Jacob Schiff (financier of Leon Trotsky and the Russian Revolution), Paul Warburg (Schiff's partner, architect of the Federal Reserve Act, and brother of Max Warburg who financed the Russian Revolution from Germany), William Averell Harriman, Albert H. Wiggin, Frank Vanderlip, and Herbert H. Lehman. In addition, the charter membership of the C.F.R. was comprised of 150 members of Colonel House's select Task Force for planning the Peace Treaty, plus one of the founders of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society named Walter Lippmann.

During the "return to normalcy" of the Twenties, the C.F.R. remained relatively quiet. In 1929, it acquired its headquarters property, the Harold Pratt House at 58 East 68th Street in New York, as a gift from the Rockefellers. Through the years the Rockefeller clan has continued to support the C.F.R. with generous grants from their tax-free foundations.

Much of the Council's financing has come also from the various Carnegie foundations. There is, in fact, a great deal to indicate that Andrew Carnegie was neck-deep in the Rhodes conspiracy. The two were very close friends and Carnegie, who made millions in America yet never became an American citizen, dreamed like Rhodes of the re-uniting of England and America. The Reece Committee, in its investigation of the foundations, discovered that the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace began propaganda activities for U.S. involvement in a European war several years before World War I began. The conspirators of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace were convinced that the best way to establish "world peace" was through a "world war," which would lead to World Government. The various Carnegie foundations were, and still are, heavily represented in the C.F.R. membership.

As World War II approached, the Round Table Group was influential in seeing that Hitler was not stopped in Austria, the Rhineland, or Sudetenland—and thereby was largely responsible for precipitating the holocaust. A second world war would greatly enhance the opportunity for establishment of World Government.

With the Round Table doing its work in Europe, the C.F.R. carried the ball in the United States. The Council's first task was to infiltrate and develop effective control of the U.S. State Department—to make certain that after World War II there would be no slip-ups as there had been following World War I. The story of the C.F.R. takeover of the U.S. Department of State is contained in State Department Publication 2349, Report To The President On The Results Of The San Francisco Conference. It is the report of Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius (C.F.R.) to President Harry Truman. On page twenty we find:

With the outbreak of war in Europe it was clear that the United States would be confronted, after the war, with new and exceptional problems . . . Accordingly, a Committee on Post-War Problems was set up before the end of 1939 (two years before the U.S. entered the war), at the suggestion of the CFR. The Committee consisted of high officials of the Department of State (all but one of whom were C.F.R. members). It was assisted by a research staff (provided by, financed by, and directed by the C.F.R.), which in February, 1941, was organized into a Division of Special Research (and went off the C.F.R. payroll and on to that of the State Department).

*(After Pearl Harbor) the research facilities were rapidly expanded, and the Departmental Committee on Post-War Problems was reorganized into an Advisory Committee on Post-War Foreign Policies (completely staffed by the C.F.R.)**

This is the group which designed the United Nations—the first major successful step on the road to a World Super-state. Members of the C.F.R. group included Harold Stassen, John J. McCloy, Owen Lattimore ("conscious, articulate instrument of the Soviet international conspiracy"), Alger Hiss (Communist spy), Philip Jessup, Harry Dexter White (Communist spy), Nelson Rockefeller, John Foster Dulles, John Carter Vincent (security risk), and Dean Acheson. Forty-seven C.F.R. members were among the American delegates to the founding of the U.N. in San Francisco in 1945.

Not only did members of the Council on Foreign Relations dominate the establishment of the U.N., but C.F.R. members were at the elbow of the American President at Teheran, Potsdam, and Yalta—where hundreds of millions of human beings were delivered into the hands of Josef Stalin, vastly extending the power of the International Communist Conspiracy. Administrative Assistant to the President of the United States during this time was a key member of the C.F.R. named Lauchlin Currie—subsequently identified by J. Edgar Hoover as a Soviet agent, and C.F.R.-I.P.R. liaison to the President.

So completely has the C.F.R. dominated the State Department over the past thirty-eight years that every Secretary of State† except Cordell Hull, James Byrnes, and William Rogers has been a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. While Rogers is not C.F.R., Professor Henry Kissinger, the President's chief foreign policy advisor, came to the job from the staff of the Council on Foreign Relations. It will be interesting to watch as Kissinger, not Rogers, runs America's foreign policy.

*The fact that a powerful C.F.R. contingent was moved into the State Department in 1939 is verified in the C.F.R.'s booklet A Record of Twenty Years, 1921-1947, which says of the financing for the takeover, "The program here described was largely financed by generous annual renewals of the initial grant of funds by the Rockefeller Foundation late in 1939. In addition, an annual grant of the Carnegie Corporation contributed to the success of the work."

†C.F.R. Secretaries of State include Henry Stimson, Edward Stettinius, George Marshall, Dean Acheson, John Foster Dulles, Christian Herter, and Dean Rusk.

The Trap

(contains articles from The Social Crediter, May 17th & 31st).

"We see Heads of State, Heads of Departments, and droves of lesser commanders flying to confer all over the globe, visibly evolving the machinery of International Government—government of nations from outside nations, and ending in World Government without nations. We are in a trap, not so much 'struggling to survive' as being prevented by the traitors in our midst from dismantling the trap".

CONTINUITY AND CRISIS

The Social Credit Secretariat for more than a third of a century has functioned as an advisory body "neither connected with nor supporting any political party". Its aim has been to create and sustain a body of informed opinion concerning the principles which govern the association of individuals in groups to their detriment—the centralised organisation of society leading to totalitarianism open or concealed; and the principles which if applied to such organised association as is necessary for the beneficial utilisation of modern resources and techniques could result in the maximum of desired distribution with the minimum of organisation and duress.

Throughout this long period of varying aspects of world crisis The Social Crediter has maintained continuous publication. The paper is non-profit-making, and the editorial and secretarial work, which is onerous, has been entirely voluntary and unpaid. The publication has attracted very considerable correspondence from which we know that its influence—combated by the Mass Media and the profit-making periodicals with a stake in the way things are even while they grow worse—is widespread in several continents.

To consolidate that influence, K.R.P. Publications has undertaken the publication of two important books, each a selection of commentaries from The Social Crediter, making readily available material whose relevance to the developing crisis is perhaps more apparent now than when originally published.

The Development of World Dominion is a selection of the late C. H. Douglas's observations in the post-war period of the Attlee Administration. Against this background it is relatively easy to perceive the significance of what the Wilson Administration has done since its elevation to power.

The Moving Storm deals with developments in the past five years—a period when strategic and logistic moves of enormous and perhaps decisive importance have been made, under cover of confusion and misinformation by the Mass Media. For example, when the Americans withdraw from Vietnam, they will leave behind modern facilities and installations and arms for over 500,000 men. When, as they will be, they are taken over by the Communists, they will be used to much better advantage for Communism than they were allowed to be in the hands of Americans against Communism. Again, the consolidation of the Soviet position in the Middle East, and the penetration of the Indian Ocean by the Soviet Navy—which at the same time is making its presence apparent all over the world—is now becoming a matter of alarm to those concerned for the defence of the West.

The Social Crediter, afflicted by universally rising costs of production and distribution, needs new and renewed subscriptions. The paper is maintained as a service in the public interest; and the public interest, if realistically considered, is more imperilled every week.

To assist in gaining subscriptions, K.R.P. Publications is offering a free copy of either The Development of World Dominion, or The Moving Storm, or both books for 13/- with each new or renewed subscription to The Social Crediter. Comments on current events are more readily appreciated against the background of these books, and to facilitate appropriate references, each book is indexed.

Readers of T.S.C. may feel that as isolated individuals they can do nothing in the growing crisis. But they are not isolated; they are part of a steadily growing body of informed opinion, studiously ignored by the Mass Media, but whose influence, in unpredictable ways, may in the end be decisive. Only those who hope to gain in power for themselves desire the downfall of Western Civilisation, and are working for it. So we ask for the assistance of our readers in obtaining subscriptions, either by their own exertions, or by donations to assist in the project.

THE SOCIAL CREDITER

FOR POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC REALISM

The Social Crediter is a fortnightly journal of policy, which examines current events from a standpoint of political and economic realism. It also publishes articles and information of permanent value. There is a reason why technological advance results only in the replacement of poverty by slavery; why, though the huge majority of individuals want peace, they are continually threatened by, or involved in, war. It is to show that war and the threat of war are the methods of the conspiracy to defeat individual progress and freedom that the Journal is published.

To assist new readers unfamiliar with the background an explanatory Supplement is included with the first issue of new subscriptions, and also a brochure giving particulars of books where detailed accounts of various important situations may be found. The brochure is also available free on request.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF WORLD DOMINION

By C. H. DOUGLAS

The post-war years in Great Britain under the Attlee Socialist Administration were critical, for in those few years Britain, victorious in war, lost the peace. Throughout that period the late C. H. Douglas wrote a series of penetrating commentaries dealing with the politics, economics and conflicting philosophies of the times. He warned the British of the fate being prepared for them—the fate which has now befallen them. Once-Great Britain is now derisively referred to as the Sick Man of Europe. This did not “just happen” nor was it, as it appeared to be, mere incompetence. It was the maturation of long-prepared conspiracy, preparing the ground for the coup de grâce under the Wilson Administration. The selection of commentaries comprising this very important book make it unique among Douglas’s works, and highly relevant to the current situation.

THE MOVING STORM

Contemporaneous commentaries on linked events 1964-1968, with an Introduction on historical significance.

By BRYAN W. MONAHAN

The Twentieth Century A.D. has witnessed a transformation of the world more profound and extensive than in any period in the existence of the globe. In its beginning it seemed to promise such a flowering of Christian Graeco-Roman civilisation as had never appeared possible, for now the Curse of Adam would be borne by the magnificent complex of machines, setting free the Spirit of Man.

Instead, the Twentieth Century has seen the death, despoliation and torture of hundreds of millions of men, women and children. The destruction of mankind has become a technical possibility, threat of which is employed to impose a universal slavery. The beneficial use of the miracle of modern technology has been centralised in the hands of would-be World Rulers, seeking to perpetuate a dynasty over a permanently enslaved mankind.

The Moving Storm is a companion volume to The Development of World Dominion, bringing comments on events up to the present situation.

THE USURPERS

By MEDFORD EVANS

Lyndon Johnson achieved office in Congress by fraud, abetted by Abe Fortas, the scheming lawyer who has now been forced to resign from the Supreme Court under threat of impeachment. Johnson became President of the United States through a coup d'état, misrepresented as such, for a time, by the Warren Commission with the able assistance of Abe Fortas. And when Johnson had completed the build-up in Vietnam—the arming of America’s potential enemies in Asia—he was forced to abdicate, to clear the way for America’s ignominious withdrawal from South East Asia and the wrecking of Australia’s defence policy.

The real government of America for some time past has been in the hands of Usurpers whose object is to manage rather than represent the American people, with the objective of consolidating an oligarchic government of the world. It is with some of the history of this usurpation, and with some key events such as the fantastic loss of the U.S.S. Pueblo and the TFX (F111) scandal, and with the lives and activities of some key Usurpers—Dean Rusk, Walt Rostow, McNamara, Clark Clifford and others—that Medford Evans deals. The story as Evans relates it, with clarity and wit, would be first-class entertainment were it not for the appalling revelations it contains and documents. There can be no doubt left in the reader’s mind as to the nature and reality of the evil fate which threatens us.

THE ACTOR

By ALAN STANG

By the end of President Truman’s term in office, the American public was becoming uneasy about both the foreign and domestic policies of the Administration. But from the point of view of the Usurpers behind the President—the real and effective Government of the U.S.—this was a critical period, particularly for foreign policy. So under a masquerade of Republicanism the nomination of Dwight Eisenhower was contrived for President. Eisenhower was a creature of the Establishment; but his Secretary of State was a man of the Establishment—a participant in the active conspiracy to establish total world government. The Actor is the story of John Foster Dulles, the architect of the Suez Canal disaster which marked the final end of the British Empire. This may be remembered; but what is hardly known at all is the leading part, in close collaboration with proved Communists, Dulles played in the formation and control of the World Council of Churches which is in the main staffed not by Ministers of God, but by trained Communists who for Communist purposes have obtained degrees in theology. Dulles was a leading member of the Council on Foreign Relations, put into government to carry out the strategy of the C.F.R.—a strategy designed, in Walt Rostow’s words, “to see an end to nationhood as historically defined”.

Here also is the story of the sinister Colonel House; the tax exempt Foundations; the Korean War; the delivery of Cuba to Communism; and much other crucial history.
